

MRS. ATKINSON'S TRIAL.

The Testimony of the Defense Puts an Entirely Different Light on the Matter.

GLENVILLE, W. Va., Oct. 10.—C. W. Lynch, of Clarksburg, formerly administrator of the estate, was the first witness called to the stand yesterday by the defense in the Atkinson trial. This witness was examined as to the authority of Mrs. Atkinson to transact business for her former husband, Judge Camden, during his lifetime. The witness said that he had been familiar with the checks, receipts and other papers of Judge Camden, per Mrs. G. D. Camden, and that he had received from her the act of Judge Camden himself, the witness recognizing Mrs. Camden's authority to sign them. The witness identified various checks signed by Judge Camden, per Mrs. Camden, as genuine and entitled to full credit. Letters bearing Judge Camden's signature were submitted to witness and identified as being in the handwriting of Camden. To one of these letters an addenda appears, which the prosecution, on cross-examination, endeavored to show was written in a different hand and in different ink from the body.

Wm. Hatcher, who had known Judge Camden for twenty-five years, and had purchased land from him, testified that Mrs. Atkinson had, with the consent and under the authority of Judge Camden, given him receipts for the purchase money. The witness said that Judge Camden, in his lifetime, told witness that any business transacted by Mrs. Atkinson, then Mrs. Camden, was all right.

Mrs. Ellen T. Kenny, Horner Davis, son of Mrs. Atkinson by a former marriage, and S. Y. Horner, her brother, and Alex. Dulin gave corroborative evidence.

Mrs. Mary Goff, of Washington, D. C., sister of Mrs. Atkinson, identified several checks purporting to have been given by Judge Camden. She said that the signature on each was his genuine signature, but that the body of each of the checks was in the handwriting of Mrs. Camden, now Mrs. Atkinson.

Interest centers in the expected appearance of Mrs. Atkinson on the stand in her own behalf. Mrs. Atkinson is quoted as saying that in the event of conviction, which she believes to be wholly improbable, she would not accept a pardon at the hands of the governor.

AN ELOQUENT PRAYER.

It does not matter who the member of Congress was who was doing the talking, but he is one that is supposed to know a little about religion as he knows much about politics.

"Don't be alarmed about me," he said to three or four correspondents the other day, during a passing visit to Washington, "but I've got something you haven't thought of in a thousand years, and I'm going to read it to you. It may seem to you of our very dear and good old friend, Chaplain Milburn, that that is no harm. What I have here is a copy of the first prayer ever delivered in Congress. I found it in an issue of Thatcher's Military Journal, bearing date of 1777, credited to Rev. Jacob Duché, rector of Christ church, Philadelphia, who subsequently proved traitorous to the noble cause of independence. The prayer is as follows:

"O, Lord, our Heavenly Father, high and mighty King of Kings and Lord of Hosts, who dost from Thy throne behold all the dwellers on earth and reignest with power supreme and uncontrolled over all the kingdoms, empires and governments, look down in mercy, we beseech Thee, on these American states, who have fled to Thee from the rod of the oppressor and thrown themselves on Thy gracious protection, desiring to henceforth be dependent only on Thee. To Thee they have appealed for the righteousness of their cause; to Thee do they now look up for that countenance and support which Thou alone canst give; take them, therefore, Heavenly Father, under Thy nurturing care; give them wisdom in council and valor in the field; defeat the malicious designs of our cruel adversaries; convince them of the unrighteousness of their cause, and if they still persist in their sanguinary purposes O let the voice of Thine own unerring justice, sounding in their ears, constrain them to drop the weapons of war from their unweary hands in the day of battle. Be thou present, O God of wisdom, and direct the counsels of this honorable assembly; enable them to settle things on the best and surest foundation, that the scene of blood may be speedily closed; that order, harmony and peace may be effectually restored, and truth and justice, religion and piety, prevail and flourish among Thy people. Preserve the health of their bodies and the vigor of their minds; shower down on them and the millions they here represent such temporal blessings as Thou seest expedient for them in this world, and crown them with everlasting glory in the world to come. All this we ask in the name and through the merits of Jesus Christ, Thy Son, our Savior, Amen."

The Saddest of Tragedies.
POTTSTOWN, Pa., Oct. 8.—Gustave Harkness, an aged hermit, who lives in an old hut along the Schuylkill river, found the body of an unknown woman lying in the bushes. The woman had evidently been murdered. Her clothing was torn and disarranged, and from her appearance she had been chided, as her torso was protruding from her mouth. The bushes indicated a fierce struggle. The woman was five feet, three inches in height, weighed 125 pounds and was a black dress, white skirt, black stockings and button shoes. It is the supposition that the woman was choked to death and her body laid in the bushes.

Wants a Chunk of It.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—Arthur M. Sewall, of Maine, who was associated with William J. Bryan on the presidential ticket last fall, arrived in this city to-day, accompanied by his wife. When spoken to on the claim that there is a condition of increased prosperity, Mr. Sewall said: "There is, but it is politics. I imagine the condition of the crops in Europe would have been the same if Bryan had been elected. The increased business is certainly due to the condition of affairs abroad, and I am glad to see it. It is a part of my business here to see if we cannot increase the number and tonnage of our vessels."

Fanatics Were Good Fighters.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The Brazilian legation her has received a telegram from the government headquarters at Rio de Janeiro, stating that Canudos, the headquarters of the religious fanatics led by Antonio El Conselheiro, was captured after a campaign in which over 3,000 Brazilian officers and soldiers were killed, wounded or invalided. The dispatch adds that El Conselheiro is dead.

Dead With His Friend.

NAPLES, Oct. 8.—Oscar Wilde has arrived here from England. His health is broken down, and he has taken up his residence in a villa owned by Lord Alfred Douglas, the son of the marquis of Queensberry, who became prominent during Wilde's prosecution, and who retained the friendship of Wilde throughout. Lord Douglas has resided at Naples for a long time past.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

The Features of the Money and Stock Markets.

NEW YORK, October 9.—Money on call nominal at 2 1/2 per cent.; prime mercantile paper, 4 1/2 per cent.; sterling exchange steady, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4 1/2 for demand and $4 1/2 for sixty days; posted rates, $4 1/2 for 30 days and $4 1/2 for 60 days; commercial bills, $4 1/2. Silver certificates, 67 1/2 per cent. Bar silver, 53 1/2. Mexican dollars, 43 1/2. Bonds quiet.

The bears renewed their raid on the market to such good account that few stocks have escaped with less than a point net loss. The course of the market yesterday, in the face of extraordinary dullness, had led many to believe that the bear campaign had come to an end and that the market would probably sink into inanimation for a time. The usual end-week covering of short contracts was expected to stiffen prices slightly. Quite the contrary occurred. Prices did improve a fraction in the first hour on a very light volume of dealings, but the weakness developed in Chicago Gas checked the rise. The room traders soon afterwards detected selling by houses with Washington connections, and bears seized upon this as proof of inside information of a mysterious something impending in Washington that might play havoc with values when it becomes known. What the mysterious something was, was not disclosed. The stock market is peculiarly sensitive to intimations from Washington at this time, owing to a conviction in many minds that it is only a question of time when the Cuban question shall lead to a rupture with Spain. Much stress is laid also by traders in stocks upon the pending decision of the supreme court upon the Nebraska maximum freight rates case and the case against the Joint Traffic association. The market was evidently unprotected by supporting orders, and the aggressive short selling by the bears led to a rapid decline in light transactions. Only two stocks in the list show sales as high as 10,000 shares. These are Chicago Gas and Burlington. Chicago Gas, Omaha, Manhattan, Missouri Pacific and Burlington were conspicuous in the decline. Consolidated Gas fluctuated in its characteristic way, making 9 1/2 points at one time, but ending with a recovery of 2 points. There were slight recoveries in some stocks just at the close, but most stocks closed at the lowest, the prevailing tone being very weak. Probably a superficial view of the weekly statement of the New York clearing houses banks had something to do with to-day's selling movement of stocks. The professional trader usually accepts a decrease in the surplus reserve as specified amount to sell. To-day's decrease of $2,165,900 in that item was in fact something of a surprise, in view of the rather strenuous efforts by the banks in the last two weeks to prevent a further shrinkage in the surplus. But the small decrease in loans reported this week—$23,300—indicates that the banking industry view with equanimity the decline in their reserve surplus, confident in the strengthening force of the $5,350,000 in gold now in transit to New York from England and France. The gold arrivals of the week reflected an increase in specie of $1,583,400, but are more than offset by the decrease in legal tenders of $4,302,300. The demand for legal tenders is very keen and the best efforts of the banks and the United States treasury are not equal to fully providing a supply. The New York sub-treasury has been obliged to refuse to supply legal tenders in return for gold exchange for telegraphic transfers of currency to other sub-treasury points.

The New York banks have been settling their balances at the clearing house during the week in gold to a large extent, and the prediction is made that the payments of customs duties will soon be made in gold. Chicago banks are reported also to be presenting gold at the sub-treasury there with a request for legal tenders, and the treasury at Washington is beginning to find itself embarrassed to supply all these demands upon it. Since September 11 the decrease in legal tender in the New York banks' reserve has amounted to $21,351,300, and the specie has increased nearly $1,800,000 in the same time, notwithstanding large exchanges of specie for legal tenders at the sub-treasury. The ample proportions of the country's gold reserve has doubtless had much to do in deferring the import movement of gold, which was inaugurated yesterday and the day before, the total amount of it now in the treasury amounting to $6,350,000. The stiffening of exchange rates, consequent upon the purchase of bills against these imports, is believed to be but temporary and the movement of gold is expected to continue steadily for some time to come. The effect on the money market of the gold engagements has been to impart a distinctly easier tone, time money declining to 3 per cent. for 60 days and up to 4 per cent. for four months and longer periods. Outside buyers of commercial paper have been in the New York market during the week and though the supply of paper has been increasing in volume rates have been easier, and at 4 1/2 to 5 per cent. for prime grades.

The stock market has been singularly unaffected by the beginning of the gold movement, which almost always has a marked sentimental effect on prices. The resistance of the market to the heavy slump in Chicago Gas on Thursday and the hardening tendency on Friday on the large shipments of gold announced on that day led to the supposition that the reaction was at an end and that a rally would ensue. But to-day's market has completely belied this expectation. The market has been dull and professional all week, sensational movements of specific stocks failing to have any marked effect on the general market. These included a jump of 7 points in Manhattan on Monday on a squeeze of shorts, the slump in Chicago Gas on the purchase of competing companies by the great gas syndicate and the usual mercurial course of Consolidated, and on different rumors regarding the adjustment between the reorganization committee and the government. The unprecedented gross earnings of the railroads for September and the handsome net returns for August, which have been reported during the week, have been as effectual as the gold movement in checking the reaction, and prices are, with few exceptions, lower the losses in the grangers tending up to 4 per cent in Omaha and 3 1/2 in Burlington.

Prices in bonds were relatively firm, some small gains being made. Transactions were light compared with recent averages. Total sales, $8,000,000.

Government bonds are 1/2 to 3/4 per cent. higher, the latter the new 4's coupon. This issue sold during the week at 126 1/2, a new high record.

New York, Oct. 9.—The Evening Post's London financial cablegram: "The stock markets were idle to-day pending the settlement in mines which is to begin on Monday next. Americans were steady."

The belief grows here that the Indian mints will not reopen for the reasons stated in these dispatches of September 28.

The London money market stands at 2-16 per cent. Supply of American two and three-months' bills is increased.

The Financier says: The statement of the associated banks of New York city for the week ending October 9 shows a material reduction in cash, the reserve having decreased over $2,000,000, all of which apparently has gone to the interior. The money loan seems to reflect actual shipments, although the statement is complicated by the adjustment of October settlements which have been going on during the week.

The decrease in loans is to be attributed to stock exchange liquidation, since the market for commercial paper and time loans has been more and more active of late, and a great deal of new business has been doing in these lines. Some of the banks, in fact, have been withdrawing their call money for the purpose of putting it into mercantile paper. The reduction in the loan item, therefore, represents rather paradoxically a better business condition.

The banks apparently have accepted prevailing rates as the maximum, and are taking advantage of the theory that heavy gold imports will prevent anything like a stringency in the market. The heavy decrease in the reserve was unlooked for, but it is to be observed that specie receipts are already supplying the heavy drain of money incidental to the interior movement. The gain in gold was made up from receipts at this port and from San Francisco, and counteracted in part the loss in legal tenders which the banks report. As the specie now on the water and engaged for shipment from Europe amounts to $6,350,000, further losses in cash will be replenished easily, and the outlook is much brighter.

The international shifting of funds is now working automatically, and the volumes will be determined largely by money conditions prevailing here. While there will really be no cheap money, it is yet difficult to see how there can be an actual stringency at any time this year. As the gold due to arrive will not figure in next week's bank statement, it would not be surprising if a further loss in the reserve is noted at that time.
